

Skipper Jan Rebek – Parody

From Bob Walser's "Landlocked"

From the singing of Angus Russell

Politically correct parody verses 3, 4, and 5 by Norm Dudziak, February 2019

1. Who's the king of the fighting Dutch?

Skipper Jan Rebek

And who do the sailors fear so much?

Skipper Jan Rebek.

Chorus:

Ja, ja leave your hammocks

Ja, ja, hands on deck!

Ja, ja break your backs for

Skipper Jan Rebek.

2. Who can furl the main topsail
All by himself in a living gale?
3. Who rescues day-old kale from Whole Foods?
And donates it all to the local food bank?
4. Who consumes his weight in milk and cookies?
And gets sweet-smelling before nookie?
5. Who sleeps with four fuzzy little kitty-cats every night,
One black, one yellow, one red, one white?
6. Who is the king of the fighting Dutch?
And who do the sailors fear so much?

Lyrics in verses 3, 4, and 5 © Copyright 2019 by Norm Dudziak

There are no restrictions on singing this song in free venues, such as pub sings.